

I am very disappointed to hear that an effort is being made to limit content available on XM satellite radio. The availability of weather and traffic content is an important XM service which I'm paying for and shouldn't be subject to limitation by the NAB. Competition should be open and on a level playing field. XM should be able to provide any content that adds to the service they deliver to their customers.